FAQ

NiceHash Mining Pool Monitor NiceHash Mining Pool Monitor is simple application for checking your current mining on Nicehash multipool (Nicehash.. Wallet believed to hold miners' payout Is this the trend for the companies in cryptocurrencies? Hack after hack after hack.. com) Check your cryptocurrency mining rigs from your mobile! Check your current speed of mining, unpaid balance, workers list and other information of your mining.

Looks like everyone is a sitting duck waiting to be hacked When money is involved, hackers are more incentivized to hack compare with other gains.. Monero for example is the best coin out there in terms of anonymity Plus it can make the transaction untraceable.. Which resulted the complete shutdown of their service Instead in my opinion, they should consider privacy based wallet to hold their pending payouts for miners.

Mining industry seems to be a big target for all these hackers to lay their hands on.. NICEHASH being the latest victim Nicehash claimed they lost a total amount of 4k btc!Which accumulate over 70 million and more with meteoric rise of bitcoin.. The technicality of how they do it can be found in this link: This of course will make the hacker harder to track which wallet holds the most funds.. Heck, they should even consider STEEM too as their hot wallet In cybersecurity, time is a huge essence.

Being a trustworthy company, they fulfilled their promise to compensate us fully on our losses in daily payout.. On blockchain, there won't be any record of recipient address nor sender's address and not even the value of transaction will be revealed! This is thanks to special algorithm they use, known as CryptoNote.. Thus, increase the failure rate of getting their hands on valuable funds as there are no target to start with in the first place.. This wallet serves as a temporary reservoir of daily payout before sending to each customer.. Will this ever stop?Millions and billions lost everyday seems to be a norm in crypto space.
